January 29, 2009

20 AREA STUDENTS INVOLVED IN NEW RIVER CTC DIGITAL PHOTOGRAPHY EXHIBIT

[LEWISBURG, WV] An exhibit of outstanding digital photography by New River Community and Technical College students is currently open to the public in the Museum Gallery of Carnegie Hall in Lewisburg, WV. It will be on display for the next several weeks.

“We want to especially invite visitors to the First Friday observance in Lewisburg on Feb. 6 to attend a public reception at the New River student exhibit,” noted Nathan England, instructor of Fine Arts on the Greenbrier Valley Campus. The First Friday reception will be from 5-7 p.m.

Among the students exhibiting their photography are Lynn Creamer of Lewisburg; Kim Carter, Union; Pattie Blevins, Lewisburg; Donna LeMasters, Lewisburg; Leetah Massie, Ronceverte; Craig Payne, Dawson; Belinda McClung, Rainelle; Kevin Grose, Rupert; Heather Logsdon, White Sulphur Springs; Mark Trent, Ronceverte; Dale McClung, Rainelle; Kelli Sizemore, Lewisburg; Aaron Burns, Rupert; Kristine Wilfong, Dunmore; Stephanie Workman, Renick; Sarah Hill, Pickaway; Scott Porterfield, Ronceverte; Melissa Redden, Rainelle; Duanne Williams, Lewisburg, and Greta Dunn, Princeton.

Carnegie Hall is located at 105 Church Street in Lewisburg, opposite the Old Stone Presbyterian Church. It is part of Academy Park which also includes Greenbrier Hall of New River Community and Technical College; North House Museum of the Greenbrier Historical Society, and the Greenbrier County Public Library.

In addition to Photography, the New River CTC Greenbrier Valley Campus offers Introduction to Visual Arts; Creative Expressions; Art History; Beginning, Intermediate, and Advanced Ceramics; Introduction to Fine Arts; Fine Arts Methods K-6; Choir; Introduction to Theatre; Theater Workshop; and Acting I as part of the Fine Arts curriculum.

--30--