NEW RIVER GVC “ON PARADE” DURING FESTIVAL SEASON

[LEWISBURG, WV] New River Community and Technical College’s Greenbrier Valley Campus has provided an entry in the parades for the West Virginia Dandelion Festival in White Sulphur Springs, the annual Farmer’s Day celebration in Union and the Ronceverte River Festival.

Wanda Johnson, program coordinator with the office of student services on the Lewisburg campus, notes “We are pleased to be a part of each of the area festival parades and we look forward to seeing as many area residents as we can during the summer festival season.”
The New River Community and Technical College van will be on the road again at the Renick Freedom Festival and the Little Levels Heritage Fair in Hillsboro, as well as the Alderson Fourth of July festivities, John Henry Days in Talcott, Pioneer Days in Marlinton, Durbin Days, the Williamsburg Fair and the West Virginia Water Festival in Hinton.

“If there are any other festivals in the area served by the New River Greenbrier Valley Campus, please let us know so we can become a part of those festivals as well,” Johnson concluded.
