May 6, 2010

NEW RIVER GVC OFFERS 56 CLASSES IN SUMMER SESSION BEGINNING MAY 24

[Lewisburg, WV] A total of 56 classes will be offered by New River Community and Technical College Greenbrier Valley Campus during the two terms of the summer session which begins May 24.

Thirteen of the classes will be presented in the traditional classroom setting in Greenbrier Hall, the main office and classroom building for campus in Lewisburg, WV. The other 43 classes will be offered on the Virtual Campus.

Courses offered in the traditional format for the first term, May 24 to June 25, include Organic Chemistry, Developmental Reading, Developmental English, English Composition, Special Topics: Beginning Clay; Medical Assisting Seminar; and Medical Assisting Externship.

A special 10-week term is scheduled for classes in Developmental Arithmetic; Developmental Algebra; General Mathematics; Algebra; Principles of Phlebotomy and the Principles of Phlebotomy Lab. These classes will run May 24 through July 30.

The Virtual Campus offers prospective students the opportunity to take online classes during the summer at the time best suited for them and not have to travel to the Greenbrier Valley Campus. These classes can be accessed on home computers and on computers at the public libraries in Pocahontas, Summers, Fayette, Greenbrier, and Monroe counties as well as surrounding areas including the Alleghany Highlands of Virginia.

Among the classes offered on the Virtual Campus are Principles of Accounting II; Managerial Accounting; Keyboarding/Document Processing I; Keyboarding/Document
During the second term, the New River Greenbrier Valley Campus will host Organic Chemistry; PC Software Applications; English Research; Drawing I; Clinical II and Clinical III; Music Skills for Classroom Teachers, and Fundamentals of Speech.

The Virtual Campus will add Human Anatomy and Physiology I and II; Microsoft Word and Internet; American History; and State and Local Government for the second term.

“We design our schedule to meet the needs and demands of our students,” noted Roger Griffith, dean of the New River GVC, in announcing the schedule, “But we welcome students who are in our area for the summers and wish to take advance classes on our campus.”

Griffith also noted many of the traditionally taught classes will also be in the evening hours so that students who are employed will have an opportunity to take the classes as well as the newly graduated seniors in the Class of 2010 at area high schools. “It is an excellent way to get ‘ahead’ on your educational ladder,” Griffith noted.

For additional information and to find out how to register for the classes, telephone 304-647-6560 or visit the New River website at www.newriver.edu.

-end-